To our Christian friends,

We are living in troubled and pain-filled times. Times in which such people exist who do not uphold the values of humanity, who commit atrocities in the name of faith and have no care for whom their victims are: Christians, Muslims or otherwise.

Some of these people profess that they are Muslims and try to justify their actions through Islam. However, our faith does not prescribe the harming of innocents, but instead teaches us to protect them. It saddens us that Christians, amongst others, are being victimised in places where they should be safest.

We have thus written this letter as a message of solidarity with you, to let you know that we stand alongside you. We pray to the Almighty for the safety of all people and deliverance to more peaceful and happier times.
